

Narberth Crushes Sandtop's Bronchos

Davismen Score Bulk of Runs
When Visitors Go Into Fielding Slump.

DURBIN BLANKS SEVEN

By John Uberti
Outfit and outplayed in all details of the game, Santop's Bronchos fell to their sixteenth defeat of the season out of their sixty past contests, when "Bill" Durbin, veteran grenadier of many diamonds, aided by fine support from his team-mates, held the contenders to the National Colored League to four spacious hits. The bombardment of the home club pounded the ebon clan into submission in the first three innings. The visitors' four connections meant three runs as compared to Narberth's seven points from the eight nicks.

While the imperious hand of "Big Bill" tenaciously restrained the followers of the one-time great catcher Santop, Narberth's indomitable onset of three-inning duration spelled victory for the second-half pace-makers of the Main Line League. This victory gives the Davismen a fair average of .560 with nine triumphs out of sixteen games in independent ball for the current season, while the "liability" column in league baseball shows only two set-backs, one by Brookline in the first game of the year and the other recently at the hands of Newtown Square.

All the runs that were destined to cross the pentagon in this contest replete with masterly exhibitions of the national diversion, found their way over the disc during the first three innings of the game, while the remaining four sessions found Durbin and Gordon who succeeded Smith on the apex in the third, engaged in an air-tight scoreless pitching battle.

Fresh from their recent string of victories over the Philadelphia Triangles, Wentz-Olney, Trenton and Morrisville, who had never lost a game prior to meeting the Santop clan, the visitors felt quite at home in the foreign half of the first frame when they assembled two hits from which they coined one run. Briggs singled to left, went to second when Young watched one go wild behind the plate and crossed off Richardson's one-bagger to leftfield which was deep enough to admit the crack rightfielder.

Narberth had not yet begun to fight when in the home half of the first, they took the lead with a pair of markers. Heckle worked presto on Smith for a double to Windsor Avenue and Harris' propellant smash soared into center giving him admittance to third. Giffilan doubled to center scoring Harris, while Fleck and Masters lofted to the outfield and Martin was thrown out at first.

The visitors tallied twice in the second, but thereafter with the exception of Richardson and Wilkerson who ambled, not a darky could gain possession of the initial hassock. With one out Campbell strolled, Wilkerson singled to the infield, promoting Campbell to third and when Smith hit to Durbin, Campbell scored off Bill's wild throw home. Wilkerson contributed the third run for the invaders when he took a flying start off third and slid over the rubber as Watson sacrificed between first and second. Briggs was thrown out; Harris to Martin.

Five hits, two walks and three errors gave Narberth the sum of five runs in the subsequent two innings. Humphreys' single rolled out slow enough to allow him to get on and Young sacrificed him to second. Durbin struck out, but Heckle walked and Humphreys counted off Harris' single and Heckle gyrated the two remaining sacks for run number two when Giffilan doubled to leftfield. Fleck lofted to left for the third out.

Narberth's relentless attack in the third yielded three runs, after which followed the gruelling duel of the mound. Masters lost no time in caroming his stinging double to centre, but Martin fell on strikes. The shortstop erred twice in succession, permitting Humphreys to reach first and Young to get the keystone at which time Masters crossed. The third baseman's blunder put Durbin on first, the vet crossing. Heckle singled, scoring Young, and Harris ambled. Giffilan dispatched a grounder to the first baseman who caught Durbin at the disc. Fleck was thrown out, Harris to Martin.

From then on neither team could get a man past first with the exception of Narberth who saw Durbin nick Gor-

Explains Television to M. L. Radio Club

Thunderstorm Prevents Demonstration for Fans at Meeting.

LONGSTRETH IS SPEAKER

By Richard L. Timm.

Last Thursday evening, amid crashing lightning and roaring thunder, accompanied by a miniature cloudburst, the Main Line Radio Association held its regular monthly meeting in the club room at 125 Sutton Road, Ardmore. A goodly number of fans were present despite the fact that many are vacationing in cooler climates.

The feature of the evening was a very interesting and instructive talk on television, given by W. W. Longstreth, of Haverford. In clear, forceful terms Mr. Longstreth detailed how the pictures being sent are changed by the use of a scanning disc into a rapidly moving pencil of light, which paints fifteen complete pictures per second on a lens focussed on a photo-electric cell. This cell, in turn, changes the light impulses into electrical impulses which are transmitted in the same manner as broadcast programs. In the receiver, in place of the loud speaker, is connected a neon glow tube, the light from which, vibrating in step with that at the transmitting end, filters a picture through the holes in the receiving scanning disc which must be turning in synchronism with the projector disc.

Mr. Longstreth discussed the disadvantages of the scanning disc, and then explained the scanning drum, Dr. Jenkins' latest contribution to the art, which was dealt with in detail in a very complete article by the inventor in last week's "Saturday Evening Post."

All the apparatus necessary for a demonstration of television was on hand, but the Q. R. N. caused by the thunder shower blanked reception. This was a disappointment to many, and there were words of doubt on the lips of some, but others who had seen the apparatus in operation at amateur station W3AUQ reassured their friends by describing some of the movie reels they had seen broadcast from W3XX in Washington, D. C.

The meeting officially came to a close after the "kitty," planned by the Receiving Equipment Fund Committee, was held. "Jimmie" Carver was the lucky winner, and he went home carrying a spare loud speaker.

The fans gathered around the transmitter, which operates on 80 meters, with the call of W3ND, and after satisfying themselves that the static was still too strong for satisfactory transmission and reception said their 73's and parted.

Every one interested in either television or radio is invited to visit the association headquarters and see what is being done. Meetings are the first Thursday of each month at the club room, 125 Sutton Road, Ardmore.

Navy Guardian of Economic Prosperity

Captain Landenberger Tells Rotarians of Peace-Time Activities.

Peace-time activities of the United States Navy were the theme of a talk before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club on Tuesday noon by Captain George Landenberger, commanding officer of the U. S. S. Pennsylvania.

"The economic prosperity of the country is safeguarded," said Captain Landenberger, "by the navy's fostering and protection of an adequate merchant marine." The navy is also a pioneer, the captain pointed out, in the development of the steel industry, of radio and of aviation, all peace-time activities. Through its demand for steel in the construction of ships, new methods of manufacture and qualities were developed. The navy's achievements in the fields of aviation and radio are too well known to the public to need repetition.

The service of the naval training schools throughout the country where enlisted men learn trades of all kinds which they may take up after their enlistment was cited as one of the foremost beneficial activities of the navy in time of peace.

The Pennsylvania is now in drydock in the League Island Navy Yard, being reconditioned and modernized throughout.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. William L. Martin, himself an officer in the naval reserve.

George Painter, of the Philadelphia Rotary Club, was a guest at the meeting.

Hedgerow Prepares Ervine Play

Next Wednesday's offering of the Hedgerow Theatre Company at the Anthony Wayne Theatre will be "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," a comedy by St. John Ervine, which has been in the Hedgerow repertoire since August, 1926.

With its central character an English actress, who "can't help splashing sex around as if she were distributing handbills," the play moves swiftly and intriguingly along to a humorous climax when this same English actress, Mary Westlake, visits the Considine country estate. The object of the visit—to hear Geoffrey Considine read his play, "Joan of Arc"—is quickly lost sight of when Mary's tendency toward play-acting is unloosed in the Considine household. "You have to do something when you come to the country," is Mary's belief, so she proceeds to fall in love with two members of the Considine family and to accept both their proposals of marriage, and to forget her acceptance of them as easily as she accepted them. Darting in and out of the action is Mary's manager, Hobbs, who spends most of his time defending himself against the accusation of being Mary's husband.

Mary Westlake, the actress, is played by Miss Dudley Vaughan. Mrs. Considine is played by Dorothy Yockel; Sheila, her niece, is played by Sue Platt; Geoffrey, her son, is played by Smith Dawless; Sir Henry Considine is played by William Price; Rev. Canon Peter Considine is played by Ferd Nofer; Hobbs is played by Jasper Deeter; Mr. Beeby is played by Ted McKay; Miss Mimms is played by Miriam Phillips, and Jenny is played by Helen Craig.

Tigers Bite Dust in Near-Shutout

Masters Fans Eight; Menaces
Lyons' Record; Allows Five Hits.

JUNGLE IS TAMED, 11-1

By John Uberti

Walter Masters came dangerously near Nick Lyons' strike-out record of eleven in Wednesday's nightcap when he curbed eight batsmen of the Main Line Tiger outfit to give Narberth undisputed supremacy between the two most buoyantly matched clubs in this vicinity. Narberth, who played a 5-5 deadlock in their previous encounter here last month, deluged the black clan under eleven devastating runs as compared to a lone tally which the visitors marked up in the third inning, thus averting a shutout.

Bob Martin led the local boys when, out of four appearances at the plate, he clouted a double, walked twice and connected for a single in his last trip for a singular average of 1.000. Vernie Fleck, veteran of the outfield, earned himself a seat among the honored when he emulated Martin's feat with two hits and contributed three of the eleven runs scored.

Masters curbed the first three men who stepped to the pentagon in the opener, while his teammates greeted the invaders with two hits from which they garnered four runs, materially aided by three unnecessary free passes. Heckle walked and Mulligan promoted him to second on his sacrificial offering and Fleck garnered the second pass of the game. Giffilan sent a sky-rocket to the first baseman, but Babb smashed a stinging two-ply shot to the right wing, scoring Heckle and Fleck. Masters also walked, immediately crossing behind Babb off Martin's double to left field. Curwin hit to the first baseman, who ousted him unassisted.

Bounds routed the locals one-two-three in the home half of the second, but weakened considerably in the subsequent frame when a round-tripper and a wild heave accounted for two local runs. Vernie, first man up in this inning, measured Bound for a mighty home-run; Gilly reached first when struck by a wild pitch, as did Babb, who immediately followed. Walter jammed the bags when he snared a free ticket, and Giffilan flashed home when Martin passed an overthrow to the disc, Babb and Walt moving up one respectively. Martin walked, Curwin singled to the infield, but Young flied to the shortstop for the third out.

The Tigers, who were minus the unrelentless aggressiveness of their first meeting, coined a run in the exotic half of the third from one bingle.

McLain blanked but Brown singled to left and H. White popped to Martin. Link met Masters' fast curve for an unofficial triple when the umpire called him out for neglecting to tag second base. Brown counted from the blunder.

Sell Stamps Here For Lakehurst to Lakehurst

That the Main Line has taken considerable interest in the projected round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin was evidenced early this week when round-trip letters were mailed at post offices here. The postage cost $3.55 for each letter, and was bought in stamps of the following denominations, as a rule: $2, $1, 50-cent and 5-cent.

The letters were forwarded as late as Tuesday night to New York, thence to Lakehurst, and were then expected to be given a special cachet commemorating the first dirigible world flight. Most of the letters were addressed by the senders to themselves, "via Graf Zeppelin, Lakehurst to Lakehurst."

Postmaster J. Bertram Nespey, of the Narberth Post Office, reported sales of stamps for over twenty round-trip letters, including five to one person. In addition many letters were sent at lower rates to intermediate points on the trip, including Czechoslovakia and Germany.

MORE TO UNCLE CY

Every "colony" dreams of the sort of response Uncle Cy has had to his series of articles on Prohibition. The replies, pro and con, continue to flow in. Let the readers weary of this interminable discussion, no correspondence on this subject will be published after the issue of August 16. If you would speak, speak quickly.

Expresses "Younger Generation"

Wynnewood, Pa.

Dear Editor,
When I read such stuff as the Rev. Harry M. Chalfant contributes to Uncle Cy's column it is all I can do to control a fit of nausea. It is evident that Mr. Chalfant lives wholly within himself and prohibition. He has been won over to the Anti-Saloon League by the noxious American saloon regime. It has left a nasty taste in his mouth and he therefore consoles himself in worshipping the statistics propounded by the venerable League and such rabid prohibitionists as Dr. Irving Fisher. He believes whisky to be wicked; he believes that given a bottle of whisky a man will make a pig of himself; he believes that prohibition has been quite successful in keeping whisky from the American public. Withal I don't believe he would know a speakeasy if he came face to face with one.

Mr. Chalfant has scratched up a few statistics which he has aired to his satisfaction. However, he does not tell us much about conditions in this country at the present time. I am of the Younger Generation. I hardly know what good liquor is and I have had to be satisfied with bootleg for the last nine years, and the marvel of it is that I'm not a drunkard, neither are many of my generation.

Of course, Mr. Chalfant will claim that the young people are not drinking and will show you statistics compiled by the Anti-Saloon League from a questionnaire of the colleges. Somehow or other they pass quickly over Yale and Princeton, and concentrate upon the trade schools, where the majority of students are working their way through and consequently have little time or money for the forbidden spirits. I can not prove to such as Mr. Chalfant that an enormous proportion of the Younger Generation is drinking. They would rather not believe it and they are totally incapable of finding out for themselves.

I heartily approve of Uncle Cy's opening his column to the great question. The community should know something of the truth once in a while. I do not blame the contributor of the prohibition articles published not long ago for not divulging his identity. He was merely protecting his home from possible search after some unscrupulous Dry had read the articles and sought a search warrant. There is a lot of hypocrisy in the air these days. I'm all for it. Such is the one thing that will some day antagonize the American people into ridding themselves of the prohibition mania.

DEAN BISHOP.

A Word in Defense

Dear Uncle Cy:

It has come to my notice that you were recently excoriated from the pulpit and I hasten to your assistance with moral support. If you are old and wise you will know that you can have no greater compliment than to have people disagree with you. If you are young, and therefore too sensible to public opinion, you may be upset.

I, personally, am so old that I realize the futility of arguing on the question of prohibition. Likewise my forebears, I hope, realized the uselessness of arguing the question of slavery.

It is not a question of opinion with me, but a matter of fact that prohibition has not worked out well in this country. I detest drunkenness and I deplore it, but in thousands of miles of annual travel, in the pursuit of my daily bread, I see the moral and economic effects of misguided legislation. I feel that we will always have prohibition and I know we will always have liquor. It is not possible to LEGISLATE morals into a nation.

Returning to the matter of unfavorable clerical comment, it is lamentable that politics are not kept out of the church.

The churches are making a poor muddle of theology, which is their primary function. I think it is fair to suggest that they do their real job before they attempt to take on another one. After they have done this and they start out to educate toward moderation they will have an opportunity to do a marvelous constructive work.

In the meantime, right or wrong, do not allow yourself to be disturbed by rampant zealots. They, too, have their place in the scheme of things.

"400" Special Six Roadster

$1475

Delivered, Fully Equipped
Nothing More to Buy!

IN STYLE, PERFORMANCE AND PRICE
—the pick of the roadsters!

FOR the open car enthusiast, Nash builds a roadster that makes all others second choice.

This new Nash "400" has the style, the finish and the sparkling performance that you customarily expect only from roadsters far beyond its extremely moderate price.

The motor is the new Twin-Ignition type which Nash engineering has developed to add exhilaration and economy to motoring. Twin-Ignition means more power, more speed with less gasoline.

Next year's open car fashion is forecast in the finish of this charming "400." The upholstery is pigskin, with a big disappearing arm rest in the center of the front seat and arm rests on either door. The "400" roadster seats its passengers low, with only head and shoulders visible. Wheels are wire, with big heavy duty spokes, oversize hubs and chromium-nickel rims.

And the "400" Roadster is fully equipped, at the price quoted above, with every fine car accessory, including Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication, chromium nickel bumpers, spare tire, tire lock and tire cover.

It's new, it's smart and it is lower priced than any other roadster which remotely compares in style, quality and performance. See it before you buy your Roadster.
